The Historical Society of Quaker Hill & Pawling invites you to hear Linda Russell, Balladeer and Story teller, present a free program of song and story about New York's involvement in the Civil War through personal accounts of those who faced the terrors of war and it's outcome. This informative and entertaining talk will take place on Saturday, November 3, 2012 at Lankler Hall, Christ Church on Quaker Hill, 17 Church Road, Pawling, New York 12564, at 1:30 PM. Admission is free. All are welcome. For more information, call Elizabeth Smith at 845-855-1248. This program comes to us through SPEAKERS IN THE HUMANITIES, a program of the NEW YORK COUNCIL FOR THE HUMANITIES. These lectures are made possible with the support of the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Elizabeth Smith
